Jungleers' Veteran Proves Puzzle-Detroit Lands Final Game of Series.

Detroit, Mich., May 19 .- Venerable George Dauss, consigned to the bone 'ard for his early spring showing, perpetrated a scandalous come-back yard for his early spring showing, perpetrated a scandalous come-back, this afternoon at the excess of the Nationals, whom he handed the goose egg end of a 6 to 6 score.

The Tigers at no time went on a scoring spree but they worried Doc yers so persistently that in the sixth inning Skipper Griffith resulted the right hander and sent Southpaw Thompson to the mound. The Jungleers did take a violent fancy to Thompson and the game didn't end any too soon for him.

The outstanding feature of the contest was by all means the pitching of Dauss. The Detroit veteran had everything. He permitted the Griffmen only three blows, all of which were infield bingles. These happened one in each of the final three rounds, the nearest to a scoring opportunity presented to Washlagton in the eighth inning after two were out.

Agnew's shirt was grazed by a pitched ball and the catcher obbed Umpire Connolly into a pass to first on the strength of the mishap Thompson slammed a single to deep short, too far back to give Bush a chance to throw. The opportunity perished when Flagstead gobbled Menoskey's fly to the right meadow. The game was played before one of the largest crowds in the history of the league. No less than 14,000 persons were present. Soldiers went in the free gate but the cash mers numbered at least 12,000. Dauss saluted the Nationals in the first round with a sharp curve that insisted on nicking the corners of the platter. Not until two were out in the fifth inning did a Griffite reach first. Then Shanks drew a Theater. on a fourth ball decision that
